Hello Friend,
Wondering why you're here? Concerned that you might not be having the best possible ride through life? Are your thoughts, actions and friendships out of alignment?

Don't fret. This is only the most natural of states.

So my advice today is:

COMPRESS THYNESELF

The truest burden of you, a conscious being, IS that very awareness.
To know yourself and know what it is you have and do not have,
what you are and are not.

It should be your Great Goal to merge

The Knowing Self

The Living Self

Together

In all walks of life:
distill your worries and spit them out concentrate your woe and walk away* fortify your fortitude and persevere temper your temper and tuck it away
